To Whom It May Concern

It is my pleasure to write a reference for All Services yacht agents. For many years now I have used All Services for most all my needs on board. They have assisted from dockage to guest transport to fuel filters and everything else in between. All Services never seem to close during the summer months and there has never been a request they could not assist with either directly or indirectly.

All Services is a company who have grown at the same pace with the yachting industry yet have still kept a personal relationship with myself and my crew which I truly value. All Services staff have consistently taken the pressure off my officers and I so we can focus on the guests needs on board whilst ensuring their off yacht expectations are also met.

I can wholeheartedly recommend All Services to any captain going to the Mediterranean be it for the first time or be it a returning captain. I believe to provide a first class service, indicative to our industry's highest standards, an agent is an essential part of the tools we need. All Services are the agent that will always get the job done!

Sincerely,
